MAARS—Milwaukee Area Amateur Radio Society—was formed to operate the widest coverage VHF repeater system (a repeater allows handheld and modile stations to communicate far greater distances than they could normally)